

GIVE PICTURE SHOW FOR PLAYGROUNDS

Illustrated Lecture on Yellowstone Park Planned for June 12.

Yellowstone National park, with all its varied grandeur and phenomena, will be brought to Salt Lake City and placed on exhibition Monday evening, June 12, at the Congregational church. The big geysers will gush, the mighty cataracts will tumble over their brink, and swirl in their rapids, the big grizzly bears will come down out of the forests, and cat garbages within thirty feet of where you stand. All this, and more, is promised by the Salt Lake City Parks and Playgrounds association in the active continuation of its campaign to raise funds for civic improvement along the lines of healthful recreation for Salt Lake juvenility.

The promotion and publicity committee of the association will promote an illustrated "travel-talk" or lecture on Yellowstone National park, one, and perhaps two, of these "travel-talks" will be given; the first one at the First Congregational church on Monday evening, June 12.

The chairman of the promotion committee had this to say last evening: "Mr. Howard H. Hays of Livingston, Mont., who has been through Yellowstone park hundreds of times and collected a wonderful series of moving pictures and color views, has been engaged by the association to exhibit his pictures and give his lecture on the park. He styles his address a "travel-talk," and he has been in almost every state in the union with this delightful and educational entertainment. Mr. Hays' moving pictures of animal life have been pronounced the finest set before the public.

"There will be a charge for these "travel-talks," but it will be so small as to be almost nominal. Every man and woman in Salt Lake ought to take advantage of this opportunity to hear this lecture and incidentally to contribute to success of the children's playgrounds.

"No lectures could be more timely at this stage of Salt Lake City's development than a series of educational talks on the great national park to which this city is the logical central gateway. The "travel-talks" will be seasonal, too, for the great army of summer travelers to the park will begin its passage through Salt Lake in a few weeks. Mr. Hays' lecture is not a dry and methodical discourse, but is built up around a series of moving pictures and hand-painted color views. An advance sale of tickets will be made and as the price of admission will be put down to 25 cents it is felt certain that the people of Salt Lake will rally to the support of the playgrounds and fill the church.

MAIN LINE IS LAID. BURLEY TO OAKLEY

Branch Will Be Open for Active Service During Month of July.

Information was received yesterday at the office of W. H. Bancroft, vice president and general manager of the Short Line, to the effect that the track laying on the main line of the Burley-Oakley Idaho road had been completed. This branch extension of the Short Line is twenty-four miles in length and is one of the many improvements to the system which the Short Line now has under way in the Geni state. While there are still the sidetracks to be laid and the depots to be constructed, work will be pushed with all reasonable speed and it is expected that the line will be opened for regular traffic during the month of July.

This new line taps the Twin Falls-Goose creek irrigation tract and a portion of the United States government's Minidoka project, all of which territory is fertile and well watered and is rapidly being settled by enterprising homeseekers.

DOUBLE-TRACKING BEGINS.

Work Is Started Between Lucin and Montello on Southern Pacific.

Special to The Tribune.

OGDEN, May 31.—With twenty-one cars of equipment, the Southern Pacific Railroad company, left for Lucin and Montello this morning to superintend the double-tracking of the line between these two stations. Construction development than a series of educational talks on the great national park to which this city is the logical central gateway. The "travel-talks" will be seasonal, too, for the great army of summer travelers to the park will begin its passage through Salt Lake in a few weeks. Mr. Hays' lecture is not a dry and methodical discourse, but is built up around a series of moving pictures and hand-painted color views. An advance sale of tickets will be made and as the price of admission will be put down to 25 cents it is felt certain that the people of Salt Lake will rally to the support of the playgrounds and fill the church.

campers are being established and wheel scrapers, horse and other equipment used in the grading are being stationed at intervals along the route of the double-track. About fifty men are being employed on the grading. To this number a larger force will be added later, as the work progresses. The Utah Construction company of Ogden has the contract for the grading for this stretch of double track, as well as the double-tracking of the Oregon Short Line between Ogden and Farmington, where camps have already been established.

MAY MOVE TRACKS.

Governor Spry and Others to Investigate Matter at Jordan Narrows.

For the purpose of investigating the matter of moving the Salt Lake route railroad tracks further away from the public road, Governor William Spry, members of the board of county commissioners, General Manager Wells of the railroad company and Warden Arthur Pratt of the state prison will make a trip to Jordan Narrows today. The improvement of the road will be done with convict labor under the new law passed by the last legislature and that is the reason for Warden Pratt accompanying the party.

Railroad Notes.

Oregon Short Line officials of the "Get Acquainted" special special day at Reno, Nev. They will complete their inspection of the Salt Lake division of the Southern Pacific this week and are expected to return to this city Sunday morning.

A. A. Monroe, freight traffic manager, and C. J. Lane, first assistant general freight agent of the Union Pacific, with headquarters at Omaha, who were in Salt Lake Tuesday, conferring with Assistant General Freight Agent C. I. Tuttle of the Short Line, left yesterday for Omaha. They report some improvement in freight traffic over the Nebraska division of their road.

Reports received at Oregon Short Line headquarters yesterday show that six miles of track have now been laid on the new Montpelier-Paris branch and that construction work is to be pushed with a full force.

Kent O. Keyes, the Salt Lake commercial agent of the New York Central lines, yesterday announced the following changes in the personnel of his office force: E. W. Schneider, contracting freight agent, resigned to accept a position with the Chicago Great Western office of this city. He will be succeeded by W. F. Greiner, a veteran railroad man of Salt Lake and formerly general agent of the Colorado Southern here.

After a three weeks' business trip, spent in eastern cities, H. H. Hunkins, traveling agent of the Chicago & North Western, Milwaukee & St. Paul, is back at his desk in the local offices.

Frank Groeschel, city ticket agent for the Denver & Rio Grande, is back after a brief vacation trip to California.

The city ticket offices of the Union Pacific, Oregon Short Line and Southern Pacific were yesterday moved from the old quarters in Main street to the new Utah hotel, where the commodious offices are strictly up to date and furnished in elegant style.

As an example of what we mean by this, we state that all the contents of upwards of 1000 sample trunks formerly carried by Tibbs, Hutchings & Co.'s salesmen, comprising tens of thousands of different articles, and also the trunks themselves, will be offered at a very small fraction of the cost of manufacture.
